

HUGHES CHARGES EIGHT-HOUR LAW POLITICAL MOVE

Opens Middle West Tour With Double-Barreled Attack on Wilson Regime.

By WILLIAM A. HOSTER.
(International News Service.)
Springfield, Ill., Sept. 19.—Charles E. Hughes opened the Middle West campaign today with a double-barreled attack on the Wilson administration. At a big meeting in the armory here tonight he charged Mr. Wilson with playing politics in the prevention of the railroad strike.

At Springfield in the day, he ripped to pieces the President's speech of acceptance, to the delight, at least, of the members of the Republican State convention, before which the candidate made his address.

Between times, he visited the tomb of Lincoln, just outside of Springfield, and addressed a big crowd at the State fair grounds.

Hughes quoted Grover Cleveland, "best Democratic President prior to Wilson," in his charge of partisanship against the President.

"Contrast the action of the administration," he urged, "with what was said by Grover Cleveland in his warning to labor legislation. Mr. Cleveland wrote:

"All legislation on the subject should be calmly and deliberately undertaken, with no purpose of satisfying unreasonable demands or gaining partisan advantage."

He denounced the Adamson law as a "force bill." He characterized "the

NO CAMPAIGN TOURS TO BE MADE BY PRESIDENT

Wilson Denies He Contemplates Change in Political Program.

(By the International News Service.)
Asbury Park, N. J., Sept. 19.—President Wilson returned to Shadow Lawn at 2 o'clock this afternoon from South Carolina, where he attended the funeral of his sister.

Four hours later Vance McCormick, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, arrived, and tonight there is every indication that a vigorous campaign is to be waged in the States classed as doubtful.

The statements in the afternoon papers that the managers of the Wilson campaign were panic-stricken over the progress of Republican Candidate Hughes started trouble.

After dinner, with Chairman McCormick the President called Secretary Tumulty to the telephone and authorized this announcement:

"The President has no intention of making any campaign tour. He does not intend to change the program already agreed upon by those in charge of his campaign. That is, he will only accept invitations from nonpartisan organizations to discuss public questions."

"Any statement quoting me as saying President Wilson intended to make a tour of Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, and New York is absolutely false. There is no foundation for the yarns printed in the New York evening papers. The Democratic campaign is progressing satisfactorily."

PARENTS BLAMED FOR BOYS' DELINQUENCY

Catholic Speaker Urges Care of Youths Starting to Work.

"After thirteen years' experience, I am convinced that the responsibility for the appearance of so many Catholic children before the Juvenile Courts of Brooklyn can be placed squarely on the parents," declared Mr. Patrick Mallon, chairman of the committee on delinquency, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mr. Mallon arraigned parents for not exercising proper supervision of their children. He declared that playing in the streets at night is especially pernicious for growing boys. "The most dangerous period for the boys," the speaker stated, "is during the first year of work after leaving school. It is at that age that he is found most frequently at the court."

To remedy the situation, Mr. Mallon urged the church to provide places for healthy relaxation for children who have just entered the ranks of workers. "The church," he said, "has, as one of its important functions, the looking after the morals of the young."

An important feature of the afternoon session was that to consider the minimum wage. Dr. Benedict Elder, of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, upheld the adoption of a minimum wage for working girls and minors. The strongest advocate of the minimum wage proved to be Rev. Dr. John O'Grady, professor of economics at the Catholic University. He said, "It is a public welfare movement. A minimum wage is simply a living wage—not a family wage."

In answer to the contention that it would affect organized laborers, Dr. O'Grady said: "It will not undermine organized labor. It merely intends to include women and minors, who are unorganized and have little opportunity for organization."

Dr. Charles P. Niell, former commissioner of labor, heartily endorsed Dr. O'Grady's plan. He said, "The Industrial Welfare Commission of Portland, spoke of the working of the minimum wage in Oregon and the favorable action on it of the supreme court of that State."

Prof. John A. Ryan, of the Catholic University, the foremost authority in America on the subject, defended the minimum wage from the ethical standpoint. He said that it meant a satisfaction of the demands for a living.

Russo-Roumanian Line Pierced by Enemy Army

(By International News Service.)
London, Sept. 19.—Field Marshal von Mackensen's right wing in Roumania, consisting of Germans, Bulgarians, and Turks, has penetrated at several points the line to which the Russo-Roumanian army was forced back after its headlong dash through the Dobruja.

The Sofia war office announced the capture of three villages, all a few miles south of the Rasova-Constanza line, which the Russo-Roumanian forces are expected to defend to the last.

Mackensen's forces now are only seven miles south of Rasova, their immediate objective in the drive toward Cornova, the fortified Danube bridgehead.

Between times, he visited the tomb of Lincoln, just outside of Springfield, and addressed a big crowd at the State fair grounds.

Hughes quoted Grover Cleveland, "best Democratic President prior to Wilson," in his charge of partisanship against the President.

"Contrast the action of the administration," he urged, "with what was said by Grover Cleveland in his warning to labor legislation. Mr. Cleveland wrote:

SUICIDE FOLLOWS WOMAN'S MURDER

Man Wanted for Killing Dies by Own Hand.

Chism's Farewell Message.

The farewell message of John W. Chism was contained in a note found in his room. The note is as follows:

Dear Mother—I have gone to my resting place. Blanche shot herself last night. God knows I did not do it. JOHN W. CHISM. Good-by.

Four hours after a city-wide search was started for John W. Chism, 26 years old, of 23 Thirtieth street, in connection with the mysterious shooting of Mrs. Blanche Hamell, at the intersection of Tenth and M streets southeast, about 10 o'clock last night, the hunted man ended himself through the head, at 750 Sixth street southeast.

The killing of Mrs. Hamell was followed by a statement of her 11-year-old son Charles, that he had seen his father with Chism earlier in the evening and that Chism had taken him away.

With this statement to work on, the police began to comb the city for a trace of the missing man. They searched his house, found a box of cartridges in his trunk, but there was no trace of Chism.

About 1 o'clock this morning the detectives got a tip that Chism had a girl at "705 or 706 Sixth street southeast," and an automobile load of detectives was rushed to that neighborhood.

There was no house at the premises 706 Sixth street, but while the detectives were making a thorough investigation of the neighborhood a shot broke the night silence, far up the block. The officers rushed toward the sound, and at 706 Sixth street they found Chism.

TEUTON FORCES RENEW GREAT DRIVE IN EAST

Vigorous Offensives Launched in Volhynia and Galicia.

(By the International News Service.)
London, Sept. 19.—Simultaneously with the news that the German great headquarters in the field has been transferred from the west to the east front, the official reports issued today in Petrograd and Berlin dealing with the fighting on the Russian theater of war reported a vigorous offensive by the Germans in Volhynia and Galicia, and Austro-German attacks in the Carpathians and the Transylvanian Alps.

The German war office announced a notable success by the Austro-German forces under Gen. Glusius in Volhynia with the capture of thirty-one Russian villages and 2,511 men, as well as seventeen machine guns.

The Teutons stormed the powerful bridgehead and drove the Russians back to the east bank of that river, thus initiating what is expected to develop into a general offensive on the Czarny northern line in Russia, to force the Czar to abandon the drive on Lemberg.

Berlin further announced officially that the Russians were beaten back in furious assaults on the Narajolka River, northeast of Hluz, while a slight Russian advance in the region of Ludova is admitted.

The total number of prisoners taken thus far in the Teuton counter attacks on the Narajolka is given at 4,390.

A minor Austro-German success between the Sereth and the Strypa also is reported by the Berlin war office.

HIS OWN POLICEMAN.
Odd Outcome of Bluff Saves County Twenty-five Dollars.

Sunbury, Pa., Sept. 19.—Carrying his own commitment and unaccompanied by a policeman, Frank Zerbe, 45 years old, of Trevelton, presented himself for admission to the Northumberland county jail, where he will serve ninety days.

"You might as well send me down for 190 days," he shouted.

"Your sentence is so much increased," answered the justice.

Realizing that Schoener meant business, Zerbe begged off, saying he did not mean that he wanted the longer term.

"I will tell you what I will do," said Schoener. "Here's your commitment to the county jail. If you take it, walk to Sunbury and deliver yourself to the warden. I will knock off the 100 days."

Zerbe took him at his word and started. Squire Schoener said he saved the county $25 in mileage and constable's fees.

Belgian Miners On Strike.

ALLIES CLOSE ON BULGARS' HEELS

Right Wing of Army Fleeing Toward Monastir.

London, Sept. 19.—The retreat of the Bulgarian right in Macedonia toward Monastir continues, the Serbian, French and Russian forces, composing the allied left, pushing hard on the Bulgars' heels.

Unofficial dispatches from Athens, stating that the Bulgarians are evacuating Monastir with a view to retreating to Unkub, sixty-seven miles to the north, are discredited here, for the Bulgars are known to have established formidable defense lines around Monastir, where they are expected to make a decisive stand to avert a withdrawal of the Bulgar-Teuton center and left.

Another great Serbian success west of Lake Ostrovo is reported by a Reuters dispatch from Salonika.

The Serbs are said to have captured by storm the highest summit of the Kaimakalan mountain range, 2,500 meters high.

Bulgarian counter attacks were repulsed, the dispatch adds, and the Serbian offensive "continues successfully."

This is disputed by the official report issued in Sofia, which says that attacks against the range were repulsed.

It is added that Russian, French and Serbian attacks against the Bulgarians positions "around Florina" were also beaten off.

Meanwhile a violent battle is raging between Bulgarians and Italian troops at the foot of Mount Belas, between Lake Dolan and the Struma.

The Sofia war office says the Bulgars took the initiative in the fighting on this front and defeated the Italians, taking 255 prisoners, including five officers and two machine guns.

RAIN HALTS MANEUVERS ON SOMME BATTLEFIELD

But French, Nevertheless, Succeed in Making Slight Gains.

(By the International News Service.)
London, Sept. 19.—The rain pouring down unceasingly upon the battle-torn fields of northern France and Flanders have come to the relief of a million utterly exhausted soldiers, spelling a lull in the great Somme battle.

Since the capture of Bellecourt by the French late yesterday and the simultaneous British progress toward Comblès and Bapaume, the bad weather made it impossible for the allies to continue the work.

No action on a large scale was fought, but during the night the French pushed their lines a little further east of Berny, while the British on the north and east of their line northwest of La Bassée, carried out some successful raids on German trenches.

The German high command was quick to take advantage of this lull on the most seriously menaced section of the Teuton front.

As soon as the bad weather set in in the Picardy, a terrible drumfire was launched far to the southeast, in the Champagne, against the French positions on both sides of the road between Souain and Sommepey, a stretch of four miles.

REDUCED GAS RATES EFFECTIVE OCTOBER 1

The reduced gas rates will not become effective for Washington consumers before October 1, according to an opinion expressed by Corporation Counsel Conrad H. Syme yesterday.

The words of the bill are "on and after" that date the Washington Gas Light Company shall not charge the consumer a sum in excess of 75 cents per 1,000 feet and the Georgetown company not over 60 cents.

The statement of Corporation Counsel Syme was not official, for the question has not been officially referred to him.

OFFICIALS DOUBT STORY OF GERMAN SEA RAIDER

Reports reaching here via Norfolk that another German commerce raider is at large in the Atlantic caused serious discussion in diplomatic circles yesterday.

There was absolutely no confirmation of these reports and allied representatives insisted that they were probably erroneous.

It was learned, however, that the British naval authorities at St. Johns have been told of reports of the presence of a mysterious converted merchantman in the Atlantic close to the main passenger track and that warships already have been sent from there to investigate.

POINTS GUN AT OFFICER; THEN KILLED BY GUARD

(By the International News Service.)
Dolores, Tex., Sept. 19.—John Clyne, a Missouri National Guardsman, was shot and killed early today by a guard in camp here.

According to military officials, Clyne's arrest had been ordered by Lieut. Zolium. Clyne became enraged and threatened the officer, finally leveling his gun at him, whereupon the guard fired, according to the military court.

The guard's name is withheld.

Clyne was a member of Company B, Second Missouri Regiment.

TRAINS ADVERTISE WILSON.

New Haven Men Indorse President By Chalking Rolling Stock.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 19.—Engineers and trainmen on the New Haven Railroad have inaugurated a novelty in campaign publicity which could not be equaled thousands of dollars.

As many trains came into this city such legends as "Vote for Wilson and Eight Hours" or "Eight Hours with Ten Hours" were chalked upon locomotives.

On freight trains the sides of box cars and cabooses were utilized for similar chalking. The abutments of bridges over cuts were liberally decorated with mottoes indicative of railroad employees' favorable feeling for President Wilson.

TRAINMEN ASKED TO BACK WILSON

Head of Brotherhood Asks 133,162 Workers' Support.

(By the International News Service.)
Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 19.—The task of rewarding President Wilson and the Democratic party for passing the eight-hour law in the face of the threat of a railroad strike has been undertaken by the heads of railroad employees' labor organizations.

They have set out to deliver not only the vote of their organization, but the entire labor vote of the country, to Democratic nominees for office.

That an extensive campaign to this end has been set in motion, carrying with it reprisal against Charles Evans Hughes and Republican Congressmen, developed here today.

The first announcement of an open appeal "to support our friends and defeat our enemies" was made by W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Brushing aside the admission that "discussion of partisan politics is prohibited in our organization," Lee makes the following plea in a bulletin over his signature, just issued to 133,162 members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, scattered all over the country:

"Surely it is the duty of not only our own members, but all persons who work for a living, to support our friends, and, if possible, defeat our enemies at the coming election."

"Therefore, it is urgently requested that the position taken by President Wilson and both branches of Congress be not forgotten and that all members use every reasonable means to retain in office, regardless of partisan beliefs, those who have proven their loyalty to the cause of labor."

SAY VILLA WILL RAID AS U. S. MEN WITHDRAW

Officials Learn Bandit Intends to Seize Evacuated Territory.

The State Department yesterday was informed, in a dispatch from an agent in Mexico, that Francisco Villa is planning to follow closely behind Gen. Pershing's forces when the Americans are withdrawn from Mexico, seizing all the territory that is left without military protection.

The information came from the same source that advised the department two days in advance that Villa was planning to attack Chihuahua City last Saturday.

The dispatch yesterday stated that the civilians in northern Chihuahua are "very friendly" to Villa, and that wherever he goes he can obtain recruits unless there is immediate danger of attack upon the Villistas by superior Carranza or American forces.

The information was immediately forwarded to the American members of the joint commission at New London for their guidance while they are negotiating for the Pershing withdrawal.

It is believed in official circles here that the dispatch will result in the American commission insisting that when the Americans are withdrawn the de facto government shall send a large military force to occupy the places Gen. Pershing's forces evacuate.

Pope Protests Against Aerial Raids on Venice

By CAMILLA CIANFARRA.
(International News Service.)
Rome, Sept. 19.—Pope Benedict XV today sent to Monsignor La Fontaine, Patriarch of Venice, a letter deploring the repeated aerial attacks made by the Austrians on that city "dear to the papal heart and precious to religion and art."

The letter states that the Pope has vainly remonstrated with Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, but exhorts the inhabitants to show courage and patience, at the same time expressing the hope that the aerial incursions will decrease.

USERS MUST PAY IF MILK GOES UP

One Dealer Says the Present Prices Yield Profit.

That under existing conditions it is absolutely impossible to pay a higher price for milk to producers, without increasing the ultimate price to consumers, was the opinion of the local dealers, who attended the joint meeting of Milk Distributors and the Association of Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers, at the Munsey Building, yesterday.

The meeting was called by a committee, appointed by the producers to obtain a view of distributors, to be embodied in a report to the general meeting of the producers, which will be held at the Raleigh Hotel, Saturday morning at 11 o'clock.

About fifteen local dealers attended the meeting yesterday, and quite a number of expense items necessary to the delivery of milk were furnished. One dealer claimed that during the past three years, his loss, due to the breakage and loss of milk bottles, had amounted to $1,000. He said that the figure on his payroll amounted to about five cents per gallon for all milk distributed, and that breakage loss stood relatively one cent per gallon.

Another dealer, who is also a producer, said that he was not a dealer, but was enabled to make a profit on milk at the present rates, but that if he had to buy all of his milk from producers at the present rate his profits would dwindle to such an extent as to make him operate at a loss.

The dealers cited the increase in prices of bottles, stoppers, labor and the changing of delivery conditions, owing to the number of apartments which are now served as reasons for their position.

A tentative retail price which would allow them to meet the requests of producers, and at the same time guarantee them a reasonable profit, was fixed at 10 cents per quart, but most of those present were of the opinion that it would be impossible to get these prices.

MAY CALL GENERAL STRIKE FOR TUESDAY

New York Labor Men Will Decide Today on Definite Date.

"The general sympathetic strike comes, the battle will be won within forty-eight hours."
